FIRE SAFETY BRIEFING

THISTLE ABERDEEN AIRPORT HOTEL

- Fire alarms are tested every Monday at 10.30am.
- The fire alarm is a continuous siren. If you hear this alarm, please leave the building by the nearest safe exit.
- Meet at the fire assembly point in the car park (green fire assembly point sign).
- Stay together so that your event organiser can conduct a roll call.
- Await further instructions from hotel staff.
- Do not run. Do not panic. Do not re-enter the building.

How can you help?

The MSF needs your help to do an effective job:

- We need safety information from you to spread the word so that:
 - others can look out for the possibilities of similar events
 - others can learn from your recommendations
 - lateral learning can take place
- We need your safety statistics
- We need sea staff, offshore installation personnel and management to attend All Members Meetings to share information
- We need membership to fund the forum
- We need willing volunteers to form and assist workgroups by adding expertise in particular fields
- We need to know your concerns about any aspect of marine safety
